TAX LAWS & REGULATIONS

The Montana Film Office does not require film permits; however, the state park system and the Highway Department do require prior approval. Various federal agencies such as the National Park Service, the National Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management require permits. In all cases, the Montana Film Office can act as your liaison with the appropriate agencies.

Sales Tax

There is no sales tax in Montana

Accommodations Tax

Montana has a 4% tax collected by the lodging facilities on all accommodations. (This includes hotels, motels, resorts, condominiums, inns, bed and breakfast, dormitories, hostels, campgrounds, dude ranches, and RV parks.) This tax is waived after 30 consecutive days of occupancy.

Child Labor Laws

Montana does not have specific child labor laws covering children employed as actors, actresses, or performers in motion pictures or theatrical, radio or television productions. The state does, however, restrict certain types of hazardous employment for children. Employers must also comply with federal child labor laws.

TAX LAWS & REGULATIONS

Income Tax Withholding
Every resident and nonresident employer doing business in Montana is required to withhold Montana income tax from wages paid to an employee for services rendered in this state. This tax is withheld as the wages are paid.

For more information contact:
Department of Revenue
P.O. Box 5835
Helena, MT 59604
(406)444-2837

Unemployment Insurance
Employers liable under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act are also liable for Montana Unemployment Tax when hiring Montana employees.

Out-of-state employers bringing workers to Montana for a temporary job are subject to the reporting requirements of their base state.

For more information contact:
Unemployment Insurance
Department of Labor
P.O. Box 1728
Helena, MT 59624
(406)444-3834

Worker's Compensation Insurance
Worker's Compensation Insurance is required in Montana. All employers, with limited exception, are required to cover all of their employees, including full-time, part-time, seasonal or occasional employees.

Public Affairs Bureau
Department of Transportation
2701 Prospect Avenue
Helena, MT 59620
(406)444-6200

Licensing Exemptions

Out-of-state commercial vehicles used exclusively in the production of motion pictures or television commercials are exempt from licensing requirements for 180 consecutive days. Other out-of-state commercial vehicles entering Montana require permits.

Special Fuel Permits

All vehicles powered by diesel fuel or LPG must have a Special Fuel Permit, a Temporary Fuel Permit, or a Fuel Card from another state participating in the International Fuel Tax Assessment (IFTA) program. These permits are readily available and inexpensive.

Crow Indian Reservation

Tribe: Crow
Population: 4,700

Location

Southcentral Montana, 40 miles southeast of Billings. Its southern edge borders Wyoming, and its eastern boundary connects with the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation.

Terrain

The elevation reaches as high as 9,000' in the mountainous areas. The million-and-a-half-acre reservation offers a variety of landforms with wooded valleys, pine-studded bluffs and buttes with rolling, grassy plains.

Flathead Indian Reservation

Tribes: Salish and Kootenai
Population: 5,100

Location

The south half of Flathead Lake, borders the reservation on the north. The eastern side of the reservation is bordered by the spectacular Mission Mountains.

Terrain

The reservation occupies 1.2 million acres in the Flathead River Valley of northwestern Montana. The valley is primarily pasture and farm land, studded with creeks and lakes. The Flathead River flows through the middle of the reservation--72 miles from Flathead Lake to its confluence with the Clark Fork River.

INDIAN LANDS

Fort Belknap Indian Reservation

Tribes: Gros Ventre and Assiniboine
Population: 2,300

Location
North-central Montana, 45 miles east of Havre.

Terrain
The more than 600,000 acres of reservation land are approximately 2,500' above sea level. Most land is open to grazing, with some crop and timberland. Rolling prairies with intermittent high hills make up the land forms. The picturesque ghost towns of Zortman and Landusky lie immediately south of the reservation.

Permits
Contact the Forest Service office at least two weeks in advance, or as soon as possible, of filming. A special-use permit is required for those productions involving structural improvements or significant occupancy of the lands by actors, crews, and/or equipment.

Motion Picture

$150 per day	1-10 crew members
$200 per day	11-30 crew members
$500 per day	31-60 crew members
$600 per day	60 + crew members

Still

$ 50 per day	01-10 crew members
$150 per day	11-30 crew members
$250 per day	30 + crew members

A bond is generally required and a full-time on-site Forest Service officer is assigned when major productions are involved.

Specter Rock, Deerlodge National Forest (DeWayne Williams)

It is the policy of the National Park Service to allow and encourage filming to the fullest extent possible. NPS policy also requires that primary consideration be given to potential resource damage and to anticipated disruption of normal public use, as they relate to proposed filming activities. Production companies are required to comply with ALL park regulations. There can be no actual or implied endorsement by the National Park Service of any commercial product.

Permits

Contact the park filming coordinator to discuss proposed filming activities. Initial contact should include: the nature of the project (storyboard or script breakdown if available), shooting dates and times and the type and numbers of equipment and vehicles to be used. Two weeks advance notice is required to properly process requests and to determine feasibility; however, projects of lesser magnitude can be processed in a shorter time frame. Permits are granted by individual parks on a case by case basis.

Fees

Fees are not charged for filming permits; however, donations are accepted. Bonds and liability insurance may be required depending on the nature and extent of filming within the park . The amounts for each will be set by the park on a case by case basis.

Located just west of Butte, Anaconda grew around the Anaconda Copper Mining Company's smelter. A symbol of the smelter, closed in 1980, still stands today in the 585' smelter smokestack: the tallest free-standing masonry structure in the world. The downtown area features turn-of-the-century buildings, including a large early day movie house, period street lamps, and parks. To the west of Anaconda is the pristine Pintler Wilderness with its snow-capped peaks and high-mountain Georgetown Lake. Also close to Anaconda is Lost Creek State Park; a canyon park with steep limestone cliffs rising over 1,200' from the canyon floor.

Montana's largest city lies below the rimrocks of the Yellowstone River Valley. The area's diverse topography includes two breathtaking mountain ranges, rolling hills, wide-open plains and river-cut canyons. Here, vast ranches, farmland and stockyards are situated just outside the conveniences of a modern city. Billings features broad, tree-lined avenues, and the metropolitan flavor of Montana's tallest buildings. To the south is the Crow Indian Reservation. Billings is easily accessible by air or interstate highway.

Situated in the shadow of the Bridger Mountain Range, Bozeman is the centerpiece of the fertile Gallatin Valley, a large agricultural area. It is also home to Montana State University and its film and television school. Many of Bozeman's neighborhoods and parks still have the feel of a sleepy college town with frat houses and quaint, comfortable homes. The downtown area features a main street with rows of turn-of-the-century buildings. Bozeman is ringed by majestic peaks and steep canyons; it is a starting point for connections to the Gallatin Canyon and Yellowstone National Park.

At the turn of the century, Butte was one of the largest cities west of the Mississippi. Today, Butte's colorful history can be seen in its ethnic neighborhoods, preserved, victorian uptown business district and stately mansions. Located virtually on the continental divide, the Mile High City lies on some of the world's richest mineral reserves. Its dominant feature is the Berkeley Pit, a huge open pit copper mine that consumed portions of the town as it grew to incredible size. The outlying area features numerous ghost towns and abandoned mines.

At the east entrance to Yellowstone National Park, Cooke City is an alpine village with snow much of the year. It is perhaps most famous for the road that connects Cooke City with Red Lodge. Called "the most scenic drive in America" by Charles Kuralt, the Beartooth Pass Highway (US 212) with dramatic switchbacks traverses the spectacular in the Beartooth Range of south-central Montana. The pass is open only in summer months (approx. June - October); however, the town is accessible by the Mammoth Hot Spring's entrance at Yellowstone Park (Highway 89) in the winter. Impressive high mountain peaks and valleys abound.

Home to Montana's state prison, Deer Lodge is one of Montana's oldest towns. Now unused, the Old Territorial Prison with its heavy bars, gothic looks and huge prison yard, remains a favorite location. Deer Lodge also houses one of the world's largest antique Ford collections. Remnants of old mining camps can still be visited a few miles from town. The original Grant-Kohrs Ranch, one of the 19th century's biggest range ranches, still exists as a National Historic Site and a working ranch.

Located in the upper northeastern corner of Montana, the Glasgow area is rolling plains and open farmland. Established in the late 1800s as a railroad town, Glasgow grew in stature when the Fort Peck Dam was built a few miles south in 1933. One of the world's oldest and largest hydraulic earthfill dams, Fort Peck Dam stretches over four miles across the Missouri River. The now vacant Glasgow Air Force Base was a centerpiece for the community. The large 13,500' runway and 67 buildings of the base are in good repair.

Glendive is tucked between the badlands and the Yellowstone River, and is considered the hub city of the rich inland agricultural area of eastern Montana and western North Dakota. Large grain farms and ranches abound. Glendive's main street is one-sided with a massive railroad yard and roundhouse on the other side. Makoshika State Park, one of the most impressive badlands areas in America, borders the southern edge of Glendive. It is not only attractive with its highly unusual rock formations, but is a virtual warehouse of prehistoric fossils, unusual mineral specimens and dinosaur bones.

Montana's second largest city is a marketing center with good air and highway connections. Grand vistas can be found in every direction; Great Falls is surrounded by mountains on three sides, as well as vast plains to the north. Within minutes you can be on a large wheat farm, in a beautiful winding river gorge, or a picturesque valley. The city, with its mid-western flavor, straddles the Missouri River which meanders toward natural falls on the northeastern edge of town.

Hamilton is located in the lush, agriculturally-rich Bitterroot Valley of southwestern Montana. The town is the central trade area for hundreds of small farms, ranches and orchards that fill the valley. It is also home to the Daly Mansion built in the late 1800s for Marcus Daly, one of Montana's colorful "Copper Kings." The two-story mansion, situated on gorgeous tree-lined grounds, features 42 rooms and seven fireplaces. The scenic Bitterroot River and impressive peaks of the Bitterroot Range run more than 60 miles along the entire length of the valley.

Havre, a rural agricultural city, is situated close to the Canadian border amidst the wide panorama of the north-central plains. Also a railroad town, it offers modern city conveniences in a remote setting, surrounded by unaltered and uncluttered plains. Fort Assiniboine, a late 19th century army installation, complete with preserved buildings, lies six miles southwest along the Milk River. In the Bear Paw Mountains to the south is Beaver Creek Park. This 10,000-acre park, one of the largest county parks in the United States, features rolling grasslands, wooded groves, rocky cliffs and rushing streams. The Rocky Boy's and Fort Belknap Indian reservations are nearby.

Downtown Helena is situated in a steep gulch with parts of the city perched on surrounding hillsides. This picturesque setting opens into a wide valley to the north. On the upper east side sits Montana's State Capital. Helena's glorious past can be seen in its spectacular 19th century mansions, historic Last Chance Gulch businesses and restored pioneer dwellings. The St. Helena Cathedral, an imposing edifice, overlooks the downtown area. Numerous old mines and settlements exist close by. Just eight miles from the Continental Divide, Helena is surrounded by mountains. The Missouri River flows nearby with several lakes within a short driving distance.

Lewistown is a strong agricultural community located at the geographic center of Montana in the vast Judith Basin. The town features many well-preserved historic businesses and homes listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Nearby is the old mining town of Maiden. Although mostly rolling prairie, farms and ranches, the Lewistown area features two beautiful mountain ranges, the Snowy and Judith. From there, grand 100 mile vistas stretch out below. Picturesque landscapes, mountain terrain, and small quiet towns typify the area.

Libby lies in the Kootenai National Forest in the extreme northwestern corner of Montana. The area is surrounded by dense forest and has long been a logging center. Many natural and man-made wonders are close by. Kootenai Falls, the centerpiece of a scenic park is just a few miles west of town. Also nearby are the Ross Creek Scenic Area Giant Cedars-ancient, immense cedars rising hundreds of feet in the air. To the east is Libby Dam, a 420' high dam that forms 90-mile long Lake Koocanusa.

Livingston is at the head of the picturesque Paradise Valley leading to Yellowstone National Park. This 53-mile long valley follows the majestic Yellowstone River. Three breathtaking mountain ranges surround Livingston, with many large ranches, hot springs and ghost towns located nearby. The dominating theme of downtown Livingston is railroading. The historic Northern Pacific depot, with its curved colonnade and terra-cotta ornament, has been restored to its original grandeur. Main street, with rows of uninterruptèd period buildings, railroad workshops and yard works remains in a downtown area rich with history.

Steeped in western history, Miles City remains a true-west town. Vast stretches of plains and badlands branch out in all directions. The Yellowstone and Tongue rivers flow unblemished in long sections. Once the horse trading and livestock center of the country, Miles City still has weekly livestock auctions and, once a year, puts on the Bucking Horse Sale for rodeo stock buyers and breeders. The Range Riders Museum features an extensive collection of western artifacts, including over 400 guns. Classic cars, wagons and restored old farm equipment are in good supply. The town features a complete 1950s era main street, 1930s era high school and an authentically refurbished early 1900s saloon.

Located in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Missoula is the center for commerce in western Montana. It is one of the state's largest cities and home to the University of Montana and its Performing Arts and Radio-Television Center. The Clark Fork River runs through the downtown area which features many classic early-century buildings. Of historical significance is the Museum of Fort Missoula and its 12 structures. Because of its location, Missoula is a starting point for connections to the Flathead and Bitterroot Valleys. Missoula is surrounded by majestic mountains and valleys, with eighty-seven percent of Missoula County being forest-land. Vast wilderness, ski hills and mountain roads exist nearby.

Polson lies at the south end of Flathead Lake in northwestern Montana. The Flathead is a prime cherry growing region with many cherry orchards throughout the area. The Flathead River that flows from Polson features whitewater rafting and Kerr Dam. The broad, sweeping valley south of Polson is bordered by the rugged, snow-capped Mission Mountains. The National Bison Range at Moiese with its large herds of bison, elk, deer, antelope and bighorn sheep is close by.

Shelby lies north of Great Falls on the great northcentral plains of Montana. This is prime wheat growing country but large cattle and sheep ranches also predominate. With the discovery of the Kevin-Sunburst oil field in 1922, Shelby became the center of a rich oil producing area. Shelby is historically significant for the Dempsey-Gibbons World Championship prizefight held there on July 4, 1923.

Sidney hugs the North Dakota border where the prairie stretches as far as the eye can see. The confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers lies nearby in a 75-mile long irrigated valley. It is a major wheat and sugar beet producing region. Located in the Williston Oil Basin, oil pumping and exploration can be found throughout the area. Sidney's Mondak Heritage Center features area history and includes an extensive street scene of the early 1900s. To the northeast is Old Fort Union, a classic frontier trading post of the 1830s to Civil War era.

Virginia City was born with the discovery of gold in Alder Gulch in 1863. A "boom town" of the post-Civil War era, Virginia City served as the Montana Territorial Capital for 10 years, until the gold ran out. Just a mile away lies Nevada City, a western town created from a collection of buildings from other ghost towns. Both towns have been largely restored and preserved as they once stood; a living example of the real old west. One-hundred-and-fifty buildings have been certified authentic by the Montana Historical Society. The majestic Madison River Valley, just west of Virginia City, features some of the world's finest trout streams, as well as a beautiful mountain backdrop.

The town of West Yellowstone is best known as the western entrance to Yellowstone National Park. The natural scenic wonders of the nation's oldest national park include geysers, brilliant hot pools, bubbling mud caldrons, rugged mountain peaks, majestic waterfalls, streams and beautiful lakes. This tourist town sits on a high plateau and receives an extraordinary amount of snow in winter, but summer also offers extraordinary locations with Hebgen and Quake Lakes and the picturesque Madison River.

Whitefish lies directly to the west of Glacier National Park--one of the most scenic, breathtaking areas in America. From Logan Pass, at the top of Going-to-the-Sun Highway, an incredible panorama of rugged peaks, deep valleys and clear lakes spreads out before you. Whitefish is surrounded on three sides by picturesque mountain peaks that include the Big Mountain Ski Area just outside of town. Whitefish Lake, seven miles long, is partially within city limits. A railroad station in a mountain setting is located here.
